

The Gromble's Guide To The Gruesome: HIDE-AND-SNEAK

Mark my words, my charming crudlings, to pull off a surprising scare, it may be necessary to go undercover. A discreet disguise can be your key to scaring success.

One strategy is to cover up as much of your foul flesh as possible.

Pass the sludge...
uh...I mean...pass
the salt, please!

There are many clever disguises that are both flattering and frightening.

This is breathtaking!

It's so beautiful!
It gives me
goose bumps!

Or try blending into your surroundings by posing as a common household object.

I am a soap dish. I am pink and pretty. I am a soap dish. I am pink and pretty.

I love giving humans goose bumps!

Be sure to camouflage yourself completely, so that your target is caught off guard.
